THE DISPENSARY.

It Has Proved Better Than Prohibition at Athens, Ga.

At Athens, Ga., as in every other part of the United States, the saloon question has, at various times, vexed the minds of the people. The "wide-open" plan was tried, but it failed to give satisfaction. Then they introduced prohibition, and that was a still greater failure. Tiring of their unfortunate experiment, the Athenians took up the dispensary system, thus described:

"1. It is under the control of the Christian people of the community, who are anxious to confine the liquor traffic to the narrowest possible limits, where it will do the least possible harm.

"2. No one in its management has any money invested or is in any way interested in the profits of the business.

"3. The commissioners and managers receive fixed salaries, paid out of the city treasury and dependent on no wise upon the profits or losses of the business. These salaries are not increased by large sales or diminished by small sales. It is not to the interest of an individual to enlarge the business.

"4. The managers of the dispensary are officers of the city of Athens, appointed by law to take liquor from the city by a police regulation, put them in sealed packages, deliver them at a price fixed by law to parties authorized by law to receive them and to turn over to the city each day all moneys received by them.

"5. The liquors are analyzed by a competent chemist, are sold in sealed packages and cannot be opened on the premises.

"6. The dispensary is closed on Sundays, on all legal holidays, at night, and whenever there is a crowd in town. All sales are for cash; no man can get credit there."

It is stated that this system was established through the influence of the churches of the town. A controversy between two church factions has recently brought it into notice. The manager of the dispensary is a church member and a faction of one church denounced him as a rum seller. They declared that he must resign his office or be expelled from the church. But he did not resign, nor was he expelled. The good man had friends in his church and they rallied manfully to his support. They stoutly defended him as a promoter of good, and in so doing, made this highly interesting statement concerning the results obtained under the dispensary system:

"The records of the city show that there was a great deal of disorder traceable to drunkenness in the last four years of the barroom regime here. The same records show that in the last four years of prohibition there were more cases of disorder traceable to whiskey than during the corresponding four years of barroom rule. The same records show that since the dispensary was established there has been less of such disorder than in the same number of years in any other period of the city's history. The fact is that when the old toppers, made in times of barrooms and prohibition, have died out, there will be no drunkards in Athens, unless they are imported. We are not raising a new crop here."

That is claiming a great deal for the Athens adaptation of the Norwegian plan. The Post has no means at hand of determining whether or not the statement is fully justified by the facts. It is put forth by honorable men who believe every word of it, and it may be that they are not mistaken. And yet it seems almost incredible that there is a town in any part of the country of not less than 10,000 inhabitants where no young men are acquiring the drink habit.—Condensed from Washington Post.

THE AWFUL CRIME.

Committed on a Colored Girl Near Here Yesterday.

A short while before noon yesterday Alf. Gibson, colored, went to the home of John Wilburn, colored, in north Morehead township, about two miles north of the city and raped Wilburn's daughter, Martha. The victim is a half white girl, of 18 years, and was at home with some younger children, when Gibson went to the house, displayed a pistol and committed the crime.

Gibson is a low, heavy set, ginger colored negro and comes of a mean family. He has a brother now in the penitentiary, serving a seven-year term for this same crime. Two other brothers have served, or are serving, terms on the county roads for less serious crimes. Alf. has served more than one term on the roads.

The matter was reported to the police yesterday afternoon, and a few hours afterward Policeman Weatherly and Constable Scott found Gibson at the home of his brother, not far from the scene of the crime. He was brought to jail and will be given a hearing Monday.

EAGAN WILL BE DISMISSED.

Found Guilty By Court-Martial Last Night.

NO RECOMMENDATION FOR MERCY

The Insanity or "Preoccupied Mind" Dodge Didn't Work With The Members of The Court-Martial

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 28.—General Eagan, chief of the commissary department of the United States army was found guilty by the court-martial last night and will be dismissed from the army. The judgment of the court is that General Eagan is guilty in both charges. Guilty of a crime against discipline, against good order and against decency, without the least shadow of palliation or excuse. The sentence is dismissal, and there is no recommendation for mercy.

The verdict is not yet officially announced, but the above report is telegraphed on good authority. General Eagan is completely broken down today. He had hoped until the last.

FAYETTEVILLE NOTES.

The Facts About The Citizens Meeting Against The Dispensary.

Editor Telegram:

It has gone abroad that a citizen's meeting of the town of Fayetteville passed resolutions protesting against the dispensary act of a fusion legislature demanding a popular vote on the question. It might be well for the people of the state to have some of the facts about this meeting:

1. It was held in the office of one of the stockholders of the hotel which never paid expense except when a bar was run in the hotel.

2. There were 31 citizens in attendance, most of whom were in some way financially interested in the sale of liquor. And these were somewhat divided in their cause.

3. A number of citizens who were invited did not attend among whom was the mayor of the city, and numbers were not invited at all.

4. The refusal of these representing the liquor interests of the city, shows the animus of the liquor business.

The saloon advocates care but little about religion or morals. They care little about the home or the church. They think only of the dollar made by it. They sang out "white supremacy" before the last election, and now they desire the negro rule established so that they may be able to overcome the will of over 1200 white voters, said to be the majority of the white voters of the county.

The dispensary men won an honest victory before the house and now the victors who have cried out against the fusion legislature will not gracefully accept the act of a white man's legislature. The action speaks much against the saloon advocates. The men who have stood for the dispensary are disinterested and have made denials in fighting the money power which the saloons represent. While most of those who are now trying to overthrow the work of the house are personally interested in the saloon traffic, if not as sellers, they are as drinkers and endorsers.

A new petition is now being circulated by the liquor men to put it to a popular vote of the people. This means that these men do not care for the great issue of November 8, 1898, but only for the advancement of personal interests. The Christian people of Cumberland county are awakened as never before. They are largely democrats and they desire that the dispensary shall stand until the constitution is amended. They will then be ready to vote for prohibition against dispensary. For the present the dispensary is the best solution of the liquor traffic.

A New Citizen For Guilford.

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Forsept and four children, of Maine, arrived in the city last night and for the present are stopping at Clegg's. Mr. Forsept has purchased a good farm a few miles from the city, and will in the future make his home in Guilford county. We welcome him to our section and hope that he is only one of Maine's citizens who will come to this part of the Sunny South to find more pleasant homes. He purchased his farm from Greensboro's hustling real estate agents, Jordan, Sinclair & McDonald.

New York, Jan. 28.—Weather forecaster Emery announced this morning that the indications are favorable for the coming of a severe snow storm and high winds, which may become a blizzard.

A SHORT MEETING.

A Curfew Ordinance Introduced and Referred.

The board of Aldermen met last night, with Mayor Taylor in the chair. Absent, Bogart, Ellington, Merritt, Walker and Pickard.

T. J. McAdoo asked that he be allowed to change his telephone poles on East Market street, from the north to the south side of the street. Alderman Sergeant moved that the matter be referred to a street committee, with power to act. Carried.

J. R. Hardin was granted permission to sell fresh meats at Barnes' store in South Greensboro.

Alderman Mendenhall offered the following ordinance:

An ordinance prohibiting certain persons from being on the street alleys and public places in the city of Greensboro after certain hours, providing penalties for its violation.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Greensboro, N. C., Guilford county, that it be and it is hereby made unlawful for any person under fifteen years of age to be or remain in or upon any of the streets, alleys or public places of the city of Greensboro at night after the hour of 9 p. m., from May 1st, to October 1st each year, and 8 o'clock p. m. at all other times, unless such person is accompanied by a parent, guardian or other person having the legal custody of such minor, or is in the performance of an errand or duty directed by such parents, guardian or other person, having the legal custody of such minor person, or whose employment make it necessary to be upon said streets, alleys or public places during the night time after such specified hours.

Sec. 2. It is hereby made unlawful for any parent, guardian or other person having the legal care and custody of any person under fifteen years of age to allow, suffer or permit any such child, ward or other person under said age, while in such legal custody, to go or to be in or on any of the streets, alleys or public places in said city after 9 p. m., between May 1st and October 1st, and 8 o'clock p. m. at all other times, unless there exists a reasonable necessity therefor.

Sec. 3. Each member of the police force of said city, while on duty, is authorized to arrest, without warrant, any person violating the provisions of section 1 of this ordinance, and when such arrest shall be made it is hereby made the duty of said police officer to require the appearance of such person before the mayor of said city on the day following such arrest for trial, and upon conviction the mayor shall administer a reprimand to such offender for the first offense, and for a second or subsequent offense such person shall be liable to a fine not to exceed ten dollars: Provided, that no person previously convicted of having violated this ordinance, shall be detained in jail or otherwise confined before trial, but the officer making such arrest shall see that the person so arrested is immediately conducted to his or her home, and shall notify the parent, guardian or other person having legal custody of such minor of said arrest; and, provided, further, that any person who shall violate section 2 of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof by the mayor for said city, be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars. This ordinance to be in effect at once after ratification.

W. D. Mendenhall.

The ordinance was referred to the street committee and the board adjourned.

A Painful Accident.

Mr. A. W. Palmer, of Winston, happened to a very painful accident in this city, about noon today. He came down from Winston this morning and expected to take the noon train for Siler City. He was on the railroad, walking toward the depot, and was passing some section hands who were at work on the track when the accident happened. The track was covered with snow and Mr. Palmer stepped off the end of a cross tie, snapping the large bone of his right leg, about four inches above the ankle. He was taken to Clegg's Hotel, and a physician summoned to set the broken limb.

Mr. Palmer is about 50 years old, and has many friends, both here and in Winston, who sympathize with him in his misfortune.

Montejo's Defense.

Madrid, Jan. 28.—The supreme court has decided by a majority of one to leave Admiral Montejo free for the present in order to enable him to prepare his defense for the court-martial proceedings against him in consequence of the destruction of his squadron in Manila Bay.

Most Remarkable Library on Engineering Subjects in the World.

Four Thousand Volumes Lost

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Woburn, Mass., Jan. 28.—Priceless treasures were ruined early this morning in the burning of the famous Loabhi Baldwin residence in North Woburn. The mansion was saved with much difficulty. The most remarkable library on engineering subjects in the world, consisting of four thousand volumes was totally destroyed. Col. Baldwin, who belonged to General Washington's army, built the mansion in 1791.

CHANGES IN OTIS' STAFF.

Chief Surgeon Lippincott to Be Succeeded By Col. Woodhall.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—The officers and men of the Twentieth Infantry who were left by the Scandia yesterday will follow on the Senator or Morgan City. Lieutenant Colonel Lippincott, chief surgeon of General Otis' staff, has been relieved of duty on account of ill health and ordered to return to this country. Lieutenant Colonel Woodhall, chief surgeon of the department of Colorado, will succeed him and is now under orders to proceed immediately to Manila.

NO ELECTION.

The Pennsylvania Legislature Has a Small Attendance.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Harrisburg, Jan. 28.—The only representative of the anti-Quay faction present today at the joint session of the general assembly was Senator Flynn, who attended to resist any attempt to elect Quay by revolutionary means. Representative Creary attended in the same capacity. Two or three democrats were present and, except Spatz, declined to vote. The ballot stood: Quay 30; Daizell, 1; Jenks 1; no election.

To Take Cable Soundings.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

SATURDAY, JAN. 28, 1899.

Right makes might but might doesn't always make right. However, many who are wrong might be right if they would throw away cranky or extremist ideas and make a fair effort to determine what is right.

The absence of our regular Washington special is accounted for in a message received this morning stating that our correspondent has been quite sick for a few days; but it is hoped that he will be able to resume his duties by Monday.

The Fayetteville Observer wrote nearly three columns about what was heralded over the state as a citizens' meeting in Fayetteville; but in much less space than that Rev. C. A. G. Thomas, who is well known in Greensboro, furnishes us with the plain, unvarnished facts about that meeting.

The city of Richmond has appropriated the sum of $6,000 as a special fund for the vaccination of the citizens of that city and imposes a fine of $5 on every person for each day's refusal to comply with the law—the law being compulsory vaccination. What are they going to do with the fellow who hasn't got the five dollars?

As foreshadowed in our news columns yesterday the insanity dodge has been sprung in the Eagan court-martial case to protect the commissary general against the execution of the verdict. This is no surprise and if half the stories are true about mismanagement in the affairs of the scrap with Spain Eagan is not the only crazy man in the lot. Sensible people would never manage things in the manner in which the authorities have been accused in this war business, and it will require something more tangible than anything yet handed out to make the people of the country believe that General Eagan is much worse than some of the rest. If he is a scoundrel he has company; and if he is crazy, ditto.

We have received a lengthy communication from our friend, Dr. L. I. Bodenheimer, of High Point, which we haven't space to print today. He says he has signed a petition for the dispensary. He is opposed to going into it for revenue; but favors it to reduce the quantity of spirits used and thereby suppress crime. He thinks, however, there should also be a dispensary established at High Point, so that in case of spider bites people there can get the necessary "medicine" without incurring the expense of coming to Greensboro. Wonder if anybody in High Point ever gets spider now, and what do they do for it? It is not the object or intention of the dispensary advocates to establish dispensaries where there is already prohibition; but to reduce and restrict the business where open saloons are now in full blast. The idea in Greensboro is that one dispensary with proper restrictions thrown around it will be better for the morals and the youth of the city than nine barrooms.

When you cannot sleep for coughing take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always gives prompt relief. It is most excellent for colds, too, as it aids expectoration, relieves the lungs and prevents any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by C. E. Holton.

A Request.

Those circulating petitions for an amendment to the local option law will please circulate them vigorously tomorrow and return to the undersigned on Monday to be forwarded to Rev. J. W. Lee. J. F. McCulloch. Chm. Agitation Com.

La Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepherd, publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Eldon, Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for La Grippe." Pleasant to take, quick to act. Howard Gardner.

A DIPLOMATIC TRICK.

AN INCIDENT THAT PROVED THE CUNNING OF BISMARCK.

The Roundabout Manner in Which He Secured the Safe Transmission of His Official Correspondence to the Foreign Office.

Stopping to the counter, Herr von Bismarck asked a grinning young shop-boy in shirt sleeves, a blue linen apron, not of maiden freshness, and blessed with a pair of large, red, greasy paws, engaged in weighing some Dutch cheese, to oblige him with a sheet of writing paper, some sealing wax and a pen to direct a letter.

On the boy producing the needful with the traditional "What else, sir?" Bismarck said: "My hands are rather cold. You had better do it for me." And he handed the boy a couple of letters wrapped in the sheet of bluish paper forming an envelope, for in those days made up envelopes were still unknown in Germany. Evidently flattered by the request of such an imposing looking client, for Herr von Bismarck's tall hat was almost touching the ceiling of the squallid little shop, the greasy-handed youth took the parcel, and, having closed it skillfully with some brown sealing wax and indorsed it with the initials of the firm, he returned it to its owner to write the address.

"Sorry, my friend, to give you more trouble," said the future chancellor in his jovial way, "but I can't manage to write with my gloves on, so just address it for me." And he handed him a penciled slip with the name of Herr Fritz Piepenbrink or some such name, oil and colonial warehouseman, No. 00 Friedrichsstrasse, Berlin.

"Thank you, young man; that'll do capitally," and paying for the paper, etc., with a small tip to the oily boy with the stereotyped grin, he pocketed his letter, and we left the place to continue our walk.

"I dare say you are wondering why I treat my correspondents to such greasy, evil smelling missives?" And he showed me the cheesy finger marks of the boy on both sides of the improvised envelope. "I'll tell you a secret, and teach you a useful lesson for future times. You may some day thank me for the hint," exclaimed Herr von Bismarck, laughing heartily.

"You know we are blessed here in Frankfurt, as throughout all south Germany, with the Thurn and Taxis postal administration, a mine of wealth to that fortunate family, but the most wretchedly managed concern under the sun. As you may imagine, it is under the thumb of Austria, hence slow and the triumph of red tape, with a pronounced weakness for diving into other people's business and skimming of course, the correspondence of all German and foreign envoys, accredited to the diet, with a preference for mine, the ever suspected Prussian culprit and traitor.

"They have established a regular black cabinet in the princely postoffice, where specially trained imperial and royal wisacres peruse our prose with critical eye, transmitting copies of extracts of all 'treasonable' matter, or particularly interesting reports, to the august Bismarck, where Gentand and after him Kildoworth have established a lynx-eyed system of political espionage (politisches schnuffeln) extending all over Europe, and comprising so many German courts and chancelleries.

"Not being particularly anxious to gratify the morose curiosity of our Austrian ally, I have thought it advisable to send important reports to the Berlin foreign office, as well as all my letters to the king, to Herr von Mantoufel, and to my sister and some particular friends, under cover to some mercantile firm in Berlin, changing freely of course, usually asking a counter-jumper in a cheesemonger's or oilman's shop to address them for me—and you can easily understand that the imperial and royal sniffers (schnuffler) don't manage to guess the correspondent of the Prussian representative under a greasy, ill-smelling cover, such as you have seen.

"It stands to reason that the smell of cheese or herring and the scribbling of a shopboy must deceive sharper men than the Thurn and Taxis post officials, and the specially delegated Austrian postoffice clerks. The only precaution I have to take is to go to different shops in quarters of the town where I am not known and to vary the Berlin address from time to time. Thus I'm perfectly safe.

"To test the joke, and I snap my fingers at the Bismarcks. It is simple enough, as you have seen, yet it wouldn't do to send everything through that channel, as they would otherwise get suspicious, so I treat my Austrian friends at least once a week to some of my diplomatic prose unimportant stuff, and occasionally something I want them to know—or to believe, and he indulged in a boisterous laugh.—Baron de Malortie in Cornhill Magazine.

A Close Shave.

A circus pair flying visit to a small country town, and the price of admission was sixpence, children under 10 years of age half price. It was Edith's tenth birthday, and her brother Tom, aged 18, took her in the afternoon to see the show. Arrived at the door, he put down ninepence and asked for two front seats.

"How old is the little girl?" asked the money taker doubtfully.

"Well," replied Master Tom, "this is her tenth birthday, but she was not born until rather late in the afternoon."

The money taker accepted the statement and handed him the tickets. But it was a close shave.—London Tit-Bits.

The cod fisheries of Newfoundland have been followed for nearly 400 years. They greatly exceed those of any other country in the world. The average export of cod is about 1,350,000 cwt. per annum.

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. De Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, best pill, safe pill. Howard Gardner.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Mr. S. A. Fackler, editor of the Micanopy (Fla.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for La Grippe and its exhausting after-effects. Never fails. Howard Gardner.

To Our Friends and Patrons:

In closing our books for the year 1898 we find we have quite a number of small accounts which in themselves are trivial, but the aggregate would make quite a nice sum. While we wish to be obliging and courteous to our customers and try to please all, we must insist upon getting our business upon more of a Cash Basis.

To open so many small accounts involves quite an amount of book keeping and consumes too much valuable time. This can be avoided by paying cash for your bundle when delivered and do away with all possibility of disputed accounts.

Thanking our customers for their patronage in the past, and extending to each and every one the greetings of the season.

Respectfully,

The Steam Laundry,

SUNDAY READING.

The Love of Money is Great.
The Ends of Justice
Must Be Met.

You like to have your own way about things—so do we —everybody does.
Our plan will furnish you
all the rope you want.

Monday morning we will place on sale 208 knee pant suits, ranging in ages from 3 to 16. These little suits will be arranged to themselves,
each suit will bear a ticket marked in red ink, the lowest price for which they can possibly be sold.

Our Silent Salesman will wait upon you, but positively will make no effort to sell you, his business being to wrap the goods and take the Cash. We are leaving the matter entirely with the prices, and if the price we have marked on them will not move them, they can not be moved. Remember these garments are all of the Mrs. Jane Hopkins make, double seat, double knee, with the seams
all taped, all wool garments in heavy and medium weights.
This sale will continue till further advised.

Rankin, Chisholm,
Stroud & Rees.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

The opera house will be warm and comfortable tonight.

W. E. Lewis has dressed hens for sale. Read his ad on this page.

Will Wagstaff, a son of the well known "Pete," was locked up this morning for an affray.

Hon. A. M. Seales returned last night from Raleigh, where he has been for a few days, visiting the legislature.

There will be a warm house and a till warmer show at the academy of music tonight. This is the last of Santaneli's hypnotic engagement here and if you don't see him you will regret it.

Sunday reading which is good for next week will be found in the space of Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees.
They are making an offer that cannot fail to catch the good judgment of prudent mothers. Read it.

The big ad of McDuffie, the fur-ture dealer, today contains a special notice of the roller top office desk he carries, and incidentally mentions the fact that he has anything needed to furnish a house or office. His prices are right.

J. H. Merritt and family have moved from the Pamberton house, on South Greene street, to Mrs. Burk's who conducts a boarding house on North Elm street in the building recently moved from East Market, where it was the Planter's hotel.

Despite the disagreeable weather the attendance at the opera house tonight promises to be as large as any other night to see the last performance by the Rentfrow people. "St. Valentine's Day" as played by this company is brim full of fun and good specialties.

A JOKE TURNED.

And a Young Man is a Handsome
"Grip" Better Off.

A good joke was played on a young man in the city last night, but it was very cleverly turned, and the projec-tor came out at the little end of the horn. The young man called on his girl at the residence of some of her relatives, and while there the doorbell was heard. It was answered by the gentleman of the house and a boy presented him with a note that read thus: "Mr. ———, Important. At — —'s Mr. ———'s trunk." The young man was much surprised to get a handsome "grip," but, determined not to be outdone, he told the boy: "All right, tell 'em I am very much obliged." He took the "grip," opened it and found a handkerchief and a collar. When he left for his home, he carried the "grip" with him and still has it in his possession. He wishes to return thanks, through the Telegram, for the useful article of which he was very much in need.

"The Middleman."

"The Middleman," presented by the Rentfrow's at the opera house last night, was witnessed by a large audience, the house being almost filled. The play was one of the best of the week, Jap Rentfrow playing the leading part in a professional manner.
All the parts were well played and the show was mirth-provoking throughout.

The company gave a matinee this afternoon, presenting "Cinderella."
Tonight they close their week's engagement, presenting "St. Valentine's Day," one of their best plays.

Reception Last Night.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. W.
M. Adams, on Lee street, was the scene of enjoyment last evening, the occasion being a reception in honor of visiting young ladies from Burlington. A number of young friends of the host and hostess were in attendance. About 8 o'clock a splendid supper was served in up-to-date style.
The dining room was handsomely decorated. After supper the happy party indulged in various amusements.
The event was greatly enjoyed by all present and will be long remembered.

THE PROWLER GETS A LETTER.

And Hands It to The Telegram for Publication.

Iceville, Ga., Jan. 27th.

Dear Prowler:—I see in the papers
where you've been talking some more.
This happened some time ago, but you see we don't get the mail but once in a fortnight. The mail goes out of Iceville all right but coming in is another thing. I notice every time you say anything they put your picture in the paper. That's a good thing.

Hope the picture is like you, because I never did like these papers that print pictures that ain't like you.
It is likely to cause a misunderstanding all round. We don't have any papers here in Iceville, except what comes in the mail every fortnight.
We get the Atlanta papers and Frank Stanton's "Billville Notes." Stanton's a good 'un and don't you cease to remember it. He is a poet what gets there in fine shape all by himself.
The papers have all got something in 'em about public schools, and I have come to the opinion that they are ruin-in' this school business in the ground; that is, they are working the scholars too hard. That's my notion about it. I have got so I look at these head-school teachers, or perfec-sers, whatever you call 'em, just like I do at the politicians. They need the jobs they've got, and them that ain't got jobs needs them they ain't got, so they keep on talking it up. Let me tell you something, Prowler, the men who are carrying on the bizness of this co ntry didn't have to go to school from the time they were weaned 'till they had to get out and make their own living. Their minds was't worn out studyin' Latin grammar and the like before they were old enough to put on their own clothes. I live way out here in Iceville, but I see things in Atlanta, how they are run, and I read the papers. I tell you the country is expected to do nothing but support the politicians and these head-school perfessers. We've got to set down on 'em for a spell. If we don't they will run away with the whole durn bizness.

Come to see me. You come to At-lantly, take the Traction Line for Ice-ville; ride ten miles and there you are.
Yours,
Growler.

Some Facts About Our MANTELS.

1. They are of handsome designs. We "pick out" the best that a number of the best factories in the country can offer. We have a number of new and handsome designs now in stock.
2. They are made of selected woods. There is a great deal of difference in woods—even in oak woods. Let us show you the difference between a piece of plain, coarse grained oak, and a piece of handsome, quartered oak.
3. The workmanship and finish are faultless. Made and polished like a piano.
4. The people buy them. We furnished one customer over seventy mantels, with tiles. This speaks for itself.

Here Is Something to Consider

On and including the time between January 10th and March 10th, 1899, we are going to set free of cost, any amount of

Grates, Mantels or Tiles

bought from us during that time, amounting to $25 or more.

Or, if you contemplate building in the spring,
and will buy the goods from us and will make a reasonable deposit on them between the dates mentioned, we will set them for you when you get ready, provided it is before July 1, 1899.

REMEMBER, you pay no more for your goods
than at any other time.
Cut this out if you are interested.
